WRITING:

A FULLER PULSE

This very poetic, enthusiastic, and vibrant book is a collection of the author's confessional-form journal entries. It stands as a Declaration of Interdependence rooted in the sociological, philosophical, and spiritual veins. Entries range from confessional-form, stream-of-consciousness catharsis, ruminations on family history, to therapeutic and uplifting self-help. The author's self-help style is informal, yet piercingly emphatic and poignant.
